BOARD OF TRADE TO HAVE REPORT FORTUESDAY MEET

Will Recommend a Change of System for Municipal Government; Points to Economy

BASED ON EXPERIENCE ELSEWHERE

Large Number of State Cities Operating Under System Are Satisfied with the Results

UNWIELDY COUNCIL ELIMINATED

Under New Plan Only One Mayor and Two Aldermen Will Have Complete Charge

A campaign for commission form of government for the city of La Crosse will be launched at the meeting of the board of trade, to be held in connection with a 6 o'clock dinner, at the Masonic temple, Tuesday night when the report of the civic committee of the board will be presented.

The committee's report recommends the commission form for various reasons, chief of which are economy and efficiency.

The report of the committee is not based on local statistics but on data gathered from other Wisconsin cities of the same class and from facts and figures furnished by ten or twelve Wisconsin municipalities now operating under the commission plan.

The report is in the hands of Attorney Frank Winter, chairman of the committee.

Today Mr. Winter refused to give out the report for publication but issued the following statement:

Facts From Everywhere

The committee on municipal affairs has had for consideration, here and elsewhere, facts regarding municipal affairs. We have found that taxation in La Crosse, as compared with cities of our own class, is fifty per cent greater, on true valuation, than in other cities.

Some ten or twelve cities have adopted the commission form of government. In each case, where we have been able to get figures, there has been a reduction in taxes and an increase in efficiency in city government and in city work.

Some of these cities are putting in extensive improvements and yet the tax rate is below, reckoned on true valuation. Superior, for example, put in ten miles of macadam and brick paving and still kept its taxes down to less than two-thirds the total of ours.

The committee has received letters from several of the commission governed cities. In no case is there any dissatisfaction. Notwithstanding the fact that in one or two cases officers were elected who were not the strongest in the system is better than the old, so the letters say.

Must Get Signers

In order to adopt the commission form in Wisconsin, a petition, asking for a special election on the question, must be signed by twenty-five per cent of the total vote cast in the last municipal election.

On filing of the petition an election is called for the sole purpose of voting for or against the commission form of government.

If adopted primaries are held and the two receiving the highest number of votes for mayor and the four receiving the highest number of votes for councilmen, have their names on the ticket. The one receiving the highest vote for mayor is elected and the two persons receiving the highest number of votes for aldermen are elected.

The mayor receives a salary of $4,000 per annum and the councilmen receive salaries of $2,500 per annum. Each is subject to the recall.

The mayor and councilmen perform the duties now delegated to the mayor and the common council, together with other extensive powers. They can organize the city and appoint officials as well as set the salaries, within certain limits.

The committee's report will be read before a meeting of the board of trade Tuesday night when it will be considered.

WANT NON-PARTISAN PROGRESSIVE TO BE THEIR CANDIDATE

Republican and Democratic Progressives Meet in Milwaukee to Pick Gubernatorial Candidate

LA FOLLETTE WILL NOT RUN

Senator in Telegram Says Duty Forbids but Intimates Need of Strong Independent Man

EXPECTED TO ACT AFFIRMATIVELY

Outlook Is Definite Steps Will Be Taken to Bring Out Man for Whom Liberals Can Vote

At 3:30 Senator Otto Boshard could not be located. When told this morning that his name was being considered in the Milwaukee meeting as a non-partisan progressive candidate for governor, he replied: "The use of my name is out of the question." This statement was repeated to Mr. Kneen, at Milwaukee, over long distance telephone.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 5.—"We have agreed on the advisability of the third candidate and this afternoon will pick the man," was the announcement today of progressives in conference to consider an independent gubernatorial candidate.

Men mentioned are State Senator Otto Boshard, La Crosse, Dr. John M. Beffel, Milwaukee, and John J. Blaine, Roscoe, Richard Lloyd Jones, Madison editor, is said to have refused to permit his name to be considered.

It was announced that a fight for the passage of the constitutional amendments providing for the initiative, referendum and recall, all of which are proposed by both Philip and Karel, will be the basis of the independent platform.

"There will be ample financial support for the ticket," Dr. Beffel declared.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 6.—Senator Robert M. La Follette will not resign from the United States senate and become an independent candidate for governor.

A call may be issued for some well known progressive to become a non-partisan candidate for governor on an independent ticket.

Senator La Follette declined to run in a lengthy telegram sent to Richard Lloyd Jones, leader of the independent movement. That it would be presumptuous for him to resign a commission to serve the people upon the presumption that they would prefer that he serve in a different capacity, without a positive call touching every precinct in the state, is the senator's reason for declining.

However, Senator La Follette leaves the impression that, while he can not make the run there should be an independent candidate, in his opinion.

The meeting of progressive democrats and republicans is in session at the Plankinton House, Milwaukee, this afternoon. Those present are:

Hon. A. W. Sanborn, Ashland; Hon. E. J. Kneen, Bangor; John Aylward, Madison; James L. Troutman, Milwaukee; Hon. Wm. H. Hatton, New London; Judge Chas. D. Rosa, Beloit; C. C. Giddings, Racine; Hon. T. J. Cunningham, Chippewa Falls; Hon. Bert Williams, Ashland, editor of the News; Hon. John Hicks, Oshkosh, Northwestern; David Worthington, editor News, Beloit; A. L. Fontaine, Grand Rapids; Judge A. H. Long, Prairie du Chien; Irwin R. Nye, Wittenburg; Hon. John Blaine, Roscoe; B. C. Wolter, Appleton; Dr. John M. Beffel, Milwaukee; Hon. A. J. Schmitt, Milwaukee; Hon. Walter S. Goodland, Racine; Henry Coehms, Milwaukee; Edwin Gross, Milwaukee; Hon. Chas. F. Velehan, Watertown; Hon. Chas. Ingram, Durand; Hon. John Kleczka, Milwaukee; Henry Krumrey, Plymouth; Ed Demsey, Oshkosh; Geo. Hilton, Oshkosh; Richard Lloyd Jones, editor Madison State Journal.

Senator La Follette's telegram to Editor Jones follows:

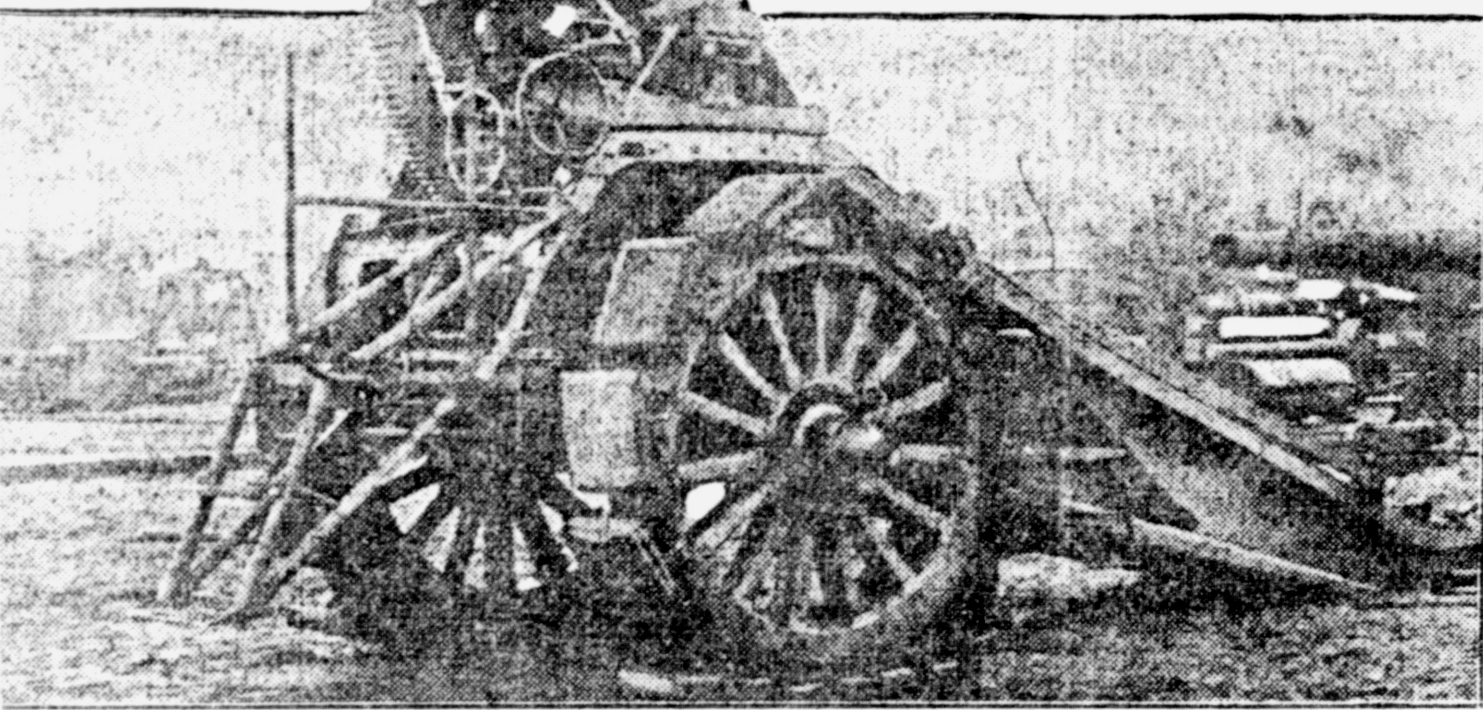

Senator La Follette's message which was made public on Sunday, is as follows:

"WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 3, 1914. "Mr. Richard Lloyd Jones, Madison, Wis. Your telegram of Friday, authorized by conference of twenty progressives, requests answer 'yes' or 'no,' to the question whether I will be an independent candidate for governor. In response to an earlier telegram from you, asking same question, I requested you to communicate with Mr. Rogers, my lawyer partner. You say your conference

One of the Huge 16.3 Inch Siege Guns Germans Used to Reduce Liege and Namur

Here is one of the "Busy Berthas," the huge siege guns the Germans used with such effectiveness in reducing the forts at Liege and Namur, thought impregnable by the allies. The central cylinder is the barrel of the gun. The others take up the recoil of the enormous charge. They are transported on their "caterpillar" wheels, drawn by several traction engines. They have been placed in position about Antwerp, and are expected to demolish the fortifications there, unless the siege is raised quickly by the allies. So proud

GERMANS SMOTHER FORTS IN ANTWERP OUTER CHAIN

TECHNICAL POINT IN WHITE SLAVE CASE ON TODAY

Superior Man Brought Wife from Chicago to Open Resort of Alleged Ill-fame

WAS IN "BUSINESS" IN CHICAGO

Fields Were Greener in Wisconsin City and She Decided to Move; Husband Transported Her

An entirely new technical feature of the Mann white slave act is being threshed out in this afternoon by the federal grand jury.

The case in question involves a man who transported his wife—a notorious Chicago resort keeper—to Superior for the purpose of opening up a "house" in that city.

About the time "business" was well under way in the Wisconsin city the federal authorities swooped down, arresting the man and grabbing his wife as a witness.

R. H. Rosenberg's wife was running a place in the Windy City. The field looked greener in Superior and, after sizing up the situation, the Rosenberg decided to bring the Madame—his wife—to Superior.

He transported her, paying her affair and arranging most of the details incidental to the trip.

The Mann act, claim federal authorities, was drawn to put a ban on commercialized vice. They claim that the Rosenberg woman went to Superior with no other intention than to live off the earnings of unfortunate women whom she intended employing.

The grand jury will probably return an indictment before it finishes its hearing this afternoon.

Federal court opened here at two o'clock this afternoon with one of the longest criminal calendars ever scheduled for trial at La Crosse.

Chief of the cases before the petit jury is that of George M. Gove, former assistant postmaster at Tomah, charged with making way with funds entrusted to the government.

Several La Crosse saloonmen and liquor dealers from various points in the county, are up on charges of selling liquor to Indians.

The petit jury was excused until tomorrow, when several cases of local interest will come up.

GERMAN OFFENSE SHOWS RENEWED VIGOR ON RIGHT

French Officials Admit the Allies Have Been Forced Back in Certain Places

RE-ENFORCE LINE ON THE WEST

Germans Fighting Ferciously to Prevent Being Forced Back Into Belgium

PARIS, Oct. 5.—The German offensive against the allies' left wing continues with increasing violence. This was the significant statement which overshadowed all else in the three o'clock official communique. The result of this terrific battle continues in doubt.

The Germans continue to drain their other fighting units to pour reinforcements into the lines of General Von Boehm and Von Kluck. They are fighting here to keep their offensive alive. If they are forced to retreat they will have to retire entirely from France. Because of the blow this would of necessity give to the fighting spirit of the German troops, the Germans are pouring every available man into the fight on the west.

The Germans have, for the time being, lifted the danger to their line of communication. They have driven the allies back at the points where they had striven desperately to reach the railway line. This line, extending northeast from Campagne through Tergener-St. Quentin-Mauze-Liege to the German army centers at Aix La Chapelle and Cologne, is the Germans' artery in their present campaign. If the allies could have cut it they would have delivered a death-blow to Von Kluck and Von Boehm. But they have been forced back in the neighborhood of St. Quentin and Nethe.

The allies, however, have had one advantage. This is the railway line which parallels that held by the Germans and extending from Amiens to Arras, at which point it turns to the east and finally pierces the German line at Valenciennes and Mons. The extreme French left is operating along this line in the direction of the last two named points.

Although the official statement admits that the French have been compelled to give way at several points on the left it is said by the military experts here that it has been found wiser to withdraw than needlessly to sacrifice men.

Berlin Asserts Success

BERLIN, Via The Hague, Oct. 5.—The Germans are gaining decisively in the fighting in France which involves the right wing of their army, according to the official statement issued today. The flanking operations essayed by the allies have been checked and at several points along the line on the west the Germans have pierced the French columns and have driven them from their trenches. The fighting, it is stated, continued.

PORTUGAL TO HELP ALLIES ON DEMAND OF ENGLAND IS BELIEF IN GERMAN CAPITAL

SEE SIGNIFICANCE IN ENGLISH SHIPS ARRIVAL IN LISBON

Believed They Have Been Sent to Transport Portuguese Into France

BY KARL H. VON WIEGAND (United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—Via Wireless Through Sayville, L. I., to The United Press.—Portugal is believed here to be about to take part in the war at the demand of Great Britain, on the side of the allies. Advices here show that a number of British steamers have arrived at Lisbon and it is believed there that they are to be used to transport Portuguese troops to the battle line in France, where the allies are being hard pressed by the Germans. In addition it is known here that Indian troops who were landed at Marseilles have been rushed direct to the front, where the British were in need of reinforcements.

The British government has been using all of its influence to get Portuguese support for its campaign, and now that the allies are being hard pressed at every point, it is believed here that the British influence may be about to succeed. The rushing of the Indian troops into action before they have had any opportunity to become acclimatized also shows how hard pressed the allies are now in France.

It is reported here that the Roumanian crown prince has strongly rebuked the Russian sympathizers at Bucharest and has insisted that Roumania continue neutral.

The Dutch government is strengthening its forces along the frontier to disarm and intern the Belgian troops who are expected to flee from the vicinity of Antwerp, according to an official statement made public here. In this connection, the war office, in discussing the Antwerp situation, says that forts Heirer, Waelheim, Koningshof and the intermediate redoubts, with 30 guns, have all been taken. This makes a breach in the outer ring and makes possible an attack on the inner ring of the forts and the city itself, the war office says.

Dealing with the campaign in the east, the general staff says:

"Near Augustowa the Third Siberian and part of the twenty-second Russian army corps attacked the left wing of the Prussian army, crossing the Niemen river, and were defeated after a two days' furious battle. Over a thousand unwounded prisoners and plenty of machine guns were captured."

Like Liege and Namur

The city's fortifications are of the same general character as were those of Liege and Namur. The Germans will reduce them with their big siege guns. It is because this fact is realized by the general staff at both England and France that the line of the allies is being constantly lengthened to the north. Both British and French troops have been reported in force in the neighborhood of Ostend. They will probably be used in a further outflanking operation which will have for its object driving the Germans out of Brussels and the relief of Antwerp.

Press dispatches received here today tell of British heavy artillery posted inside of Antwerp to aid in the defense of that city. This is the first intimation that British troops were sent into Antwerp. It proves, however, what has been assumed for weeks, that the general staff has taken over the direction of the Belgian campaign.

Antwerp Denies

ANTWERP, Oct. 5.—Despite the continued bombardment of the southern forts, the general staff today in an official statement denied the German contention that the fire of some of the minor forts has been silenced.

"The situation continues excellent," says the statement. "Every single fort in the defenses of Antwerp is in action. At no points have the Germans made gains. We can hold out indefinitely."

The German commander has been approached by the American minister, who remains in Brussels, according to reports received here, and asked to spare as much as possible the historic structures of this city. According to advices received here the German general stated that he would do so as long as the Belgians do not use them for military purposes.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Dollies That Played Army Nurse.

"We are all going to war," he said.

"DADDY, all my dollies want to go to war," said Evelyn gravely as she and Jack snuggled down beside daddy for the evening story.

"Well, let's send them as army nurses," said daddy.

"In a story?" asked Jack.

"Why, of course," replied daddy; "that is the only way we can send them."

"We'll send out a message to all the dollies in town, and they will be here in just about ten minutes, because, you see, each dolly will be so eager to go that they will come right away on each one's tiny wishing rug."

"Why, how do you do, dollies? You got here even quicker than I thought," Daddy and Jack and Evelyn looked into the smiling faces of rows and rows and rows of dollies, all grouped about the living room. One dolly, a boy dolly with rows of buttons down his coat, came over and stood in front of daddy and Evelyn and Jack.

"We are all going to war," he said in a little piping voice, and I am the doctor in charge. We must get a ship and an outfit which includes medicines, bandages, uniforms, hints and gauzes."

"You want a heap of things, don't you?" asked daddy smilingly.

"Yes," said the little dolly doctor, "and you and Jack and Evelyn must help me."

"You tell us what to do and we will do it," replied daddy without the flicker of an eyelid.

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

CINDERS

By LAURA KIRKMAN

(Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

It was their first quarrel. Helen sat out on the veranda staring into the darkness. John sat in the library—a thing he had never done before in the evening.

"Anyway, that ghastly dinner is over," sighed Helen thankfully, as she tapped the floor nervously with her slipper.

It had been a ghastly meal indeed. The quarrel had come before they had finished soup, and a frigid silence had reigned all through the meal. Helen sat with one hand clinched under the table, afraid that the tears would come from sheer nervous tension.

"In which case, I suppose, he would have thought I was so sorry," she reflected. "I'm sorry for what was not my fault at all. As if I were to blame because Bridget happened to forget to iron one of his shirts."

For it was over so trivial a matter as a shirt—trivial to Helen's mind at least—that the quarrel had arisen. John that morning, being in a hurry, had put on a newly laundered shirt without giving it close inspection. Downtown he had met a wealthy business friend and had invited him to lunch. At the end of the luncheon, following his friend's eyes, he discovered that the front of his shirt was unironed!

"I'm delighted to have McGrath think we have our clothes washed!" he had told Helen, sarcastically, over the soup.

Then had begun the quarrel—Helen's defense of her housewifely efficiency—John's insinuations that a little less time spent at card parties and a little more at home was not a bad thing for the general running of the house.

"He was horrid—just horrid!" she told herself, making a quick dab at her eyes with her handkerchief. For now the tears were coming freely.

Then she sat up, petrified: John was stepping through the door—coming toward her! If he discovered her crying, he would think she was sorry.

She sat up stiffly. If he could have seen her eyes there in the darkness, he would not have thought her exactly melting in penitence.

He halted before her. "Do you know where my old fishing boots are?" he asked briefly.

Then he was going away for the night with the men—he was going fishing or spearing, or something! So he was tired of her! He was looking back longingly at his bachelor days.

She tried to make her tone convey that she didn't care.

"Oh, in the closet under the stairs," she threw out.

When he had gone in again, she leaned forward and buried her face. She did care—care horribly. She remembered when he had thrown the old boots into the closet and said that sports would never again hold any attraction for him. That was a week after their marriage.

She was still sitting with buried head when a heavy step sounded again on the porch. He didn't come close, this time, however. He stood near the door and called to her.

"I say! They're not there."

Helen's fingers gripped the arms of her chair. Would she have to go in and find them for him, go in there in the full glare of the light?

Before she had decided the man's voice came again, this time a bit sarcastically.

"Perhaps Bridget has put them somewhere!"

His tone said plainly: "She seems to be running the house."

Like an iceberg, Helen arose from her chair and sailed toward him. She passed him with a silence that must have been chilly. Like a cold blast, she blew along the hall to the closet under the stairs. She found the boots where she supposed they would be. She picked them up gingerly. Leaving him to dust them, she set them down on the hall floor and started back to the veranda.

But she was intercepted. In the doorway stood John, obviously blocking the way so that she couldn't pass. He had seen her red eyes!

"Helen!" he said in a low voice as she stood rigidly before him waiting for him to step aside.

She made no answer.

"Helen!" he said again. Then, as she still remained silent, put out his hand and caught her arm. "Shall we make up?" he asked with boyish appeal. "Come! I can see you want to Helen!"

He had said just the wrong thing. That he could see she wanted to. She sprang away from him, furious. Then he thought she was appealing to him with tears; thought she was pleading for his forgiveness!

Her tone trembled as she hurried back her answer:

"Make up? No! A thousand times, no! I—I have a cinder in my eye. I fear you have mistaken their redness for signs of deep grief."

He let her pass now. He stood back, as angry as she. With heavy tramp he swung down the hall after the boots.

Helen sat out on the porch till he had gone; then she went in. She went up to her room and flung herself on the bed. She did not attempt to light the gas, or to undress; she was too wretched.

For a full hour she lay there, then suddenly, she sat up. She leaned forward in the darkness and listened. What was that sound?—a latch key? It surely was a latch key. And John was the only person who had one. Then he had not gone off with the men, after all! He had not found sports more delectable than home!

With beating heart, she tiptoed to the top of the stairs and listened. He had gone into the library. In a moment the light flared up. Was he reading, she wondered?

But she did not care much what he was doing. The main thing was that he was there! He had come home! She gathered up her skirts and started down those stairs with noisy heels.

She found him sitting on the library couch with his head in his hands. At her entrance, he looked up fleetingly, then sank his head more dejected in his palms.

She flew to him. She raised his face. With happy heart, she noted that his eyes, too, were red.

"John!" she cried. "Oh, John! You want to make up, too?"

But he shook his head. "No!" he denied swiftly. "It's— it's just a cinder in my eye!"

Then he kissed her.

RUSHFORD, Minn., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—One hobo's nerve saved him from arrest last week, when he was found by Miss Martha Moe, assistant at the postoffice, in her pantry, when she returned home at noon. Miss Moe found that the pantry door would not open. Thinking her mother was in the larder, holding the door shut for a joke, Miss Moe pushed hard, and finally forced the door open. She was dumbfounded when a ragged, heavily bearded man walked out. The "ho" explained that he had been so hungry that he had walked in to help himself, being unable to find anyone around to invite him. Miss Moe was so astonished that the tramp escaped before she recovered sufficiently to call the authorities.

ZAPATA WILL NOT JOIN THE VILLA

Says Rebel Chief Is Only Tool in Hands of the Federals and Huertistas

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Reports that Zapata will not join Villa against Carranza were received at the constitutionalist headquarters today. One report declared that Ismail Palafox, Zapata's representative, who is in San Antonio, Texas, made this statement after conferring with Villa in Chihuahua.

Zapata will not join Villa, according to Palafox, because "Anglesas and many federals together with the Huertistas and Felicitas and other reactionary elements, are joining Villa."

They will soon control him and use him as a tool, Palafox is reported to have said.

Information reached Washington also this afternoon that General Dominguez Arce defeated Gen. Urbina at Durango.

With a battle imminent between the forces of Governor Maytorena, and General Benjamin Hill at Naco, Sonora, within sight of the border of Arizona, the war department today issued orders to patrol officers that no Mexican wounded would be permitted on American soil.

MEMORIES OF A MIRACLE

In 1861 a man was tapped and got well of Bright's disease, and the books are talking about it yet. (See Tyson on Bright's Disease, 2nd Edn 1904, p. 155.) We have before us addresses of nine patients, who were tapped two to twenty times, and recovered; for instance, G. W. Kirkpatrick of 184 Laguna St., San Francisco, from whom 34 lbs of water were taken first tapping; and the young son of A. C. Dean of North Avenue, East Oakland, who was tapped nine times.

The ability of Fulton's Renal Compound to diminish albumenuria in many cases of Bright's Disease is a FACT IN PHYSICS established by thousands of urinalyses. It does not conflict, but is helped by the treatment commonly prescribed. We never knew a case of Chronic Bright's Disease with dropsy to recover under Digitalis and Basham's Mixture unaided by Fulton's Renal Compound, but we have many reports of recoveries under the Renal Compound unaided. However, heart and eliminative agents help greatly in critical cases.

I, Frank H. Burgess, business manager of The La Crosse Tribune, do solemnly swear that the actual month of September, 1914, was as above stated.Subscribed and sworn to before me this first day of October, 1914.

A. E. BLECKMAN,
Notary Public.THE ATTACK ON THE REFERENCE BUREAUResolved, that in the opinion of the Association, an official legislative drafting and reference service, when properly organized and directed, forms an efficient agency tending to prevent the enactment of unconstitutional, obscure and otherwise defective statutes and to secure the utmost brevity and simplicity consistent with accuracy in the language of statutes, and we hereby recommend the establishment and generous support of such service at Washington and in those states not now having such service.Foregoing is a portion of a resolution adopted by the American Bar association. It has a direct bearing upon the attack being made on the Wisconsin reference library, after which the proposed Washington bureau is expected to be modeled.One of the charges made against the department is that it results in a flood of useless bills coming before the legislature. In reply to this Dr.
Charles McCarthy, librarian, offers the following list of states with the number of bills introduced in their respective legislatures during 1913:

California	3,922
Connecticut	1,751
Massachusetts	3,167
Minnesota	2,226
Missouri	1,570
New York	4,081
N. Carolina	4,308
Pennsylvania	2,726
Tennessee	2,742
Wisconsin	1,759

As to the responsibility of the department for bills, it may be well to note that bills are drawn only upon written request, and that this rule is strictly adhered to in Wisconsin.The chief justice of the Wisconsin supreme court declares over his sig-nature that the Wisconsin bureau
"has been of very material assistance to the legislative branch of the government in the careful drafting of bills and in placing within reach of the legislators the results of legislation in other countries, as well as the literature bearing thereon. The effect of this work is, of course, naturally helpful to the court, because it tends to produce laws more scientifically drawn, and to prevent crudities in laws."The national Chamber of Commerce, certainly no "visionary" body, has urged congress to afford a national duplicate of the Wisconsin bureau, and on the same subject President Wilson says:"I can only say that it seems to me highly important that a legislative reference department should be established in the Congressional Library. The experience of several of our states in this matter is conclusive as to the great usefulness of such a department. Indeed, I think if once established, everyone who had any knowledge of it would deem it indispensable."This is one of the departments which, in his "personal platform,"
Mr. Philipp promises to destroy.
What are the people of Wisconsin going to do about it?DO WE BELIEVE IN PEACE?It is no ordinary occasion that sees the people of a great country called together to pray for peace in other lands. The call comes not because the suffering of nations at war is shared by our nation, not for commercial advantage, not for safety from the danger of being drawn in to the conflict, but from human sympathy, from sorrow that men who have no bitterness against each other should be trying to kill each other—from the conviction that peace is possible and desirable.We cannot pray for peace unless we believe that there is a divine purpose in the ruling of this world, unless we believe that a greater good must come from peace than any possible good resulting from the continuance of war.Nor can we as Americans pray for peace unless we mean peace. We may not forget that the chief cause of our safety and exemption from this great war is the wide sea which separates us from the quarrels of Europe. That is no sure guarantee that we ourselves shall remain at peace. Our own safety can come only from our own conviction that the duty of peace overrules the causes of going to war. We cannot pray for peace because we think the size and position and resources of the United States assure us against the danger of war. We cannot pray for peace unless we believe that the age in which men go to war to adjust grievances is over."Above nations is humanity," said Goldwin Smith—a new world view, but one that men are rapidly accepting, a creed that means the end of war. If we believe it, we may indeed pray for peace without hypocrisy, because we believe in peace.—

Broke up the Game

The two football teams are facing each other.
Tense and quivering, the opposing men await the signal that shall put the ball into play and hurl them against each other in the fierce shock of battle.The captain begins calling the

"32, 35, 22, 17," he shouts.

Fading Beauty

The green is fading from each leaf.
The flowers die on the hill;
The whispering winds have almost hushed
The murmuring of the rill;
The sun that lit the earth with gold,
While sinking to its rest,
Has hung a crimson banner out To brighten up the west.The songbirds too, have ceased to singAmong the fading flowers;
And left a requiem sighing there
For summer's dying hours;
And even nature seems to mourn—
To watch bright moments die—
Yet fading beauty lingers on Each leaflet floating by.How can they say the summer time
Is sweeter than the fall?
Ah! no—let others weep to see
The beautiful summer fade—
There is a sweeter charm for me
In autumn's mellow shade!
The withered flowers that droop and die—
Each serene and yellow leaf—
Seems but an emblem of this life,
So fading and so brief.The flush must fade from every cheek,
The luster from the eye.
And all things beautiful must fade,
For all were made to die!
The smile must leave the laughing
lip,
And joyous hours depart—
For death's cold touch at last will chill
The fountain of the heart!—Rev. J. P. Fitzsimmons,

Bad for the Tramp

When Mr. Johnson returned home from the office the other evening he found his young wife in tears. "Why, Grace?" he cried in surprise. "What is the trouble, darling?"
"Oh, Ernest," she sobbed, "I baked a cake this morning and set it on the window sill and a tramp came along and stole it!"
"Well, don't cry, dearest," said the husband consolingly. "One tramp less in the world doesn't matter."—

Hard to Explain

Cummings and Weisner were business rivals. One day at the club they fell to talking.
"Do you carry any life insurance?"
queried Cummings.
"Yes," was the answer, "I have $10,000."
"Made payable to your wife?" asked Cummings.
"Yes," said Weisner.
"Well," asked Cummings, "what kind of an excuse do you pull off to your wife for living?"

that man rode with me among the Indians, Red Feather's daughter had taken a fancy to him, and Mr. Gledware had married her and I had been kept away from him as he'd forgot me and not turn his thoughts toward his own people; and they had taught me that my name was Wil-lock because they were going to take me to you, Brick. Isn't it wonderful? That day you found the deserted wagon, and buried my mother, Red Feather was watching you from the mountain and he wouldn't kill you because you made that grave and knelt down to talk to the Great Spirit. Afterward, when he rode home and found that his daughter and Mr. Gledware were to be married, he made up his mind that if you succeeded in keeping hidden from Red Kimball and his band, you would be the one to take care of me. And when two years had passed and we were still safe, he brought me to you! What a glad day that was!""When Red Feather's daughter wanted Mr. Gledware's life saved, it was so. And Red Feather gave them a great stretch of land, and Mr.
Gledware got to be important in the tribe; he made himself one of them, and they thought him greater than their own chief. At the end of a few years, there was the great agitation over the boomers coming to the Oklahoma country, and much talk of the land being thrown open. The Indians didn't want it done, and they joined together to send some one to Washington to address congress on the subject. Mr. Gledware was such an orator that they thought him irresistible, so they selected him, and for his fee, they collected over fifty thousand dollars. Think of it!""Of course he didn't go near Washington. It was the time of Kansas City's great boom. He went there and bought up city lots, and sold out at the right time, and that's why he's rich today. In the meantime, the Indians didn't know what had become of him, and Red Feather's daughter died from shame over her desertion—just pined away and hid herself from her people till she was starved to death. That's why Red Feather meant to kill Mr. Gledware."
"When he had finished, Red Feather bent over Mr. Gledware and said to him, 'Me speak all true? Tell Lahoma—me speak all true?'""And the man whispered feebly,
"It is all true—don't kill me, for God's sake, don't kill me—save me,
Lahoma, my child.""I begged him not to kill the man.
Red Feather said to me, 'You hear how he treat my daughter. You my friend, Lahoma. You know all that, and yet you tell me not kill him?'""I say not kill him."
"Then you hate my daughter?"
"My mother could marry him.
Red Feather, and I can beg for his life.""He shook his head. 'No, Lahoma, he die; he leave my daughter to die and this hand do to him what he do to her.'""I never felt so helpless, so hor-ribly weak and useless! There was, only a few years away, and the man was my stepfather, and his enemy was our friend. And not far away stood the man's big house filled with guests—among them strong men who could have overpowered dozens of Indians. But what could I do?""Then I had a thought. 'Let him live, Red Feather,' I said, 'but strip him of all his ill-gotten property.
Turn him loose in the world without a penny; it'll be punishment enough.
You can't bring back your daughter by killing him; but you can make him give up all he has in return for stealing the money from your tribe.'""I don't know why I thought of that, and I don't know why it made appeal to Red Feather's mind. I saw at once that he was going to consent. All he said was, 'Talk to him—'
But I knew what he meant.""So I crossed the room and looked down at the man. 'Mr. Gledware,' I said, 'are you willing to give up all your possessions in order to save your life?'
"Oh, yes," he gasped. 'A thousand times, yes! God bless you, Lahoma!'
"You will deed all your property away from you? And surrender all that you own, money, bonds, stocks, and so forth?"
"My God, yes, yes!" he wailed.

miserable coward.""Mr. Gledware sobbed and gasped and choked, swearing that he would keep his word, and assuring us that, if he broke it, death would be too when he thinks himself safe—that's another thing! I know his life is as secure as mine, if he is true to his promise. But if he breaks it—well, we know Red Feather! Do you think

Mr. Gledware will keep his word?
Or will he wait to see whether or not Red Kimball rids him of the In-wait. But as soon as he's calm, it will be like death for him to give up all he owns. That will mean giv-

"It hasn't been an hour since I came back to my room. When Red Feather slipped away, the only thing

I asked Mr. Gledware was my moth-where her people lived. I'm going to leave here in the morning. I'm com-because they don't care who's who,

and shoot quick and straight when they have to. I'm coming back where money's mighty scarce and love's as free and boundless as Heaven, where good books are few and true hearts are many. Yes, I'm coming back to the West, and if the winds don't blow all the sand away, under the sand I expect to be buried.
But I want to live until I'm buried.
People have made the big world as it is—well, they are welcome to it;
but God has made the cove as it is,
and it's for me and Brick and Bill.

three! There's oceans of room out in the big world for everything and everybody. But in the cove, there's room just for "Me

Keep warm—save vitality!

"The coming of bitter cold makes it necessary to again warn old people and children especially of the importance of preserving the body's vitality by keeping in the heat of the blood. Disease germs flourish when the body is chilled. Exposing yourself unnecessarily to cold puts an extra load upon the heart. Keep the home all over at uniform temperature, particularly avoiding cold, drafty floors which chill the big blood vessels at ankles." That is why health authorities so strongly endorse robbed of its purity and vitality by escaping ash-dust and coal-gases.

AMERICAN & IDEAL RADIATORS & BOILERS

Look at the official health maps of any big city, which will show you how free from deaths due to neuralgia, rheumatism, pneumonia, coughs and consumption are those districts where practically all the best homes are warmed and ventilated by IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators. The Indian huddled over his campfire is one of the worst victims of pneumonia, rheumatism, consumption and other winter maladies. So, too, the farmers (according to Government Statistics), with their old-fashioned heating, show a far bigger death rate than do city people from the ravages of these winter diseases.

IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators are used to warm and ventilate the leading hotels, sanitariums and baths at Aix-les-Bains, Nice, the Riviera, Carlsbad, Marienbad, Cairo, Simla, Japan, Florida, Southern California, etc. These facts should point the right heating way to you!

IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators are now put in old or new cottages, mansions, stores, schools, churches, etc., without disturbing occupants or tearing up floors or partitions. Their big savings in fuel and absence of repairs soon repay their cost. Will outwear the building. Write, phone or call today for free book, "Ideal Heating."

The fire in an IDEAL Boiler need not be rekindled in an entire heating season. One charging of coal easily lasts through the longest zero night. There can be no fuel waste.

An unfailing, stationary Vacuum Cleaner—in sizes now at $150 up!

You should know about our ARCO WAND Vacuum Cleaner, for dustless, complete cleaning of rooms, furnishings, etc. Sits in basement and cleans through iron suction pipe running to each floor. Easily put in OLD buildings. Fully GUARANTEED. Lasts as long as the building—like radiator heating. Send for catalog.

$1,000,000 FOR WORK
MADISON, Wis., Oct. 5.—Nearly $1,000,000 have been spent in building operations here during the past nine months. For the nine months' period, according to the records of Building Commissioner Dean, Madison spent $962,519 in erecting new buildings and remodeling old ones. There has been a steady gain during the past two months which indicate that all previous building records will be broken.

HARRY FRENCH IS HURT IN ACCIDENT

Harry French, 1525 Kane street, a Burlington conductor, lies at the La Crosse hospital in a critical condition, the result of injuries sustained yesterday afternoon at Potosi when the cylinder head of a locomotive blew out, hitting him in the abdomen. Dr. Suiter, who is attending the man, pronounces his case as serious.

French left Grand Crossing on train No. 80 yesterday forenoon. The train stopped at Potosi. On learning from the engineer that the right hand piston was not working right, French went to the head of the engine to inspect the cylinder. The cylinder head blew out, striking him in the abdomen and rendering him unconscious. The accident occurred at one o'clock.

He was taken to the station at Potosi and was later brought to La Crosse on Passenger No. 51 at 6:05 last evening and was immediately rushed to the hospital.

Internal injuries were caused by the accident, but the attending physician and nurses are anticipating no complications.

WILSON AT PEACE WITH COL. HARVEY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Aftermath of "Peace Sunday," which set all politicians' tongues here wagging today, was the reconciliation of President Wilson and Colonel George Harvey, former editor of "Harper's Weekly." Harvey was invited to the White House and spent an hour with the president yesterday.

Political seers professed today to see in the burying of the hatchet between Harvey and the president significance regarding the 1916 presidential campaign, as Harvey is a close friend of Champ Clark. Col. Watterson, Louisville editor—"Mars Henry"—is expected to be the next prominent critic of the president to make peace with the white house.

PRAIRIE FIRE IS GOT UNDER CONTROL

MANDAN, N. D., Oct. 5.—After raging for four days and devastating a district twelve miles wide and 36 miles long, a prairie fire here is thought today to be under control. Of the 700 men and women called out last night to fight the fire, many were from the Standing Rock Indian reservation, where the most damage was done. Although nothing definite is obtainable, indications are that the damage will go beyond $100,000.

BURLESON HELPS COTTON PLANTERS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Coincident with the opening today of a "cotton fashion show," in line with the "buy a bale" movement to create a market for the southern crop affected by the war, Postmaster General Burleson announced that hereafter, if possible, cotton will be substituted for jute twine in the postal service.

Burleson is asking for bids for cotton twine to use instead of jute. About 1,700,000 pounds of twine, worth $100,000, are used annually in the service, principally in the railway mail service.

WISCONSIN WINS

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 5.—Wisconsin livestock winners at the recent Illinois state fair were announced by the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders' association today. They show that the Badger state carried off many of the prizes in several departments. In the Shorthorn class Frank Harding of Waukesha won the senior championship on the bull, Village Denmark, and the senior and grand championships on his cow, Lancaster Duchess VII. He also took firsts in the ageable class.

ACTOR'S DOG ALARM CLOCK

Baseball clubs, fire engine houses and even American battleships have mascots, but it was left for John J. McMahon, comedian in the musical comedy, "The Elopers," which will be at the La Crosse theatre Tuesday, to discover a new use for a mongrel dog he befriended. This animal wakes up the comedian in time to catch his train, to go to the theater and in other ways makes himself generally useful. It has become so that McMahon depends entirely upon the dog instead of an alarm clock and has named the animal "Alarm."

"Alarm" is a combination of dachshund, fox terrier and spaniel. However he is indispensable to the actor. One cold night while McMahon was traveling with a company he found the dog shivering at the stage door of a theater in a small town.

McMahon cannot sleep in a room that has a clock, as the ticking keeps him awake. He has accustomed himself to arising without being called. The dog soon learned this fact and made it a point to awaken the actor at the proper time.

McMahon tells how at one time after an early dinner he retired for a nap. Although due at the theater at 7:30 he did not awaken. Immediately faithful "Alarm" started barking and when after a few minutes the master did not arise the dog jumped on the bed and started to pull McMahon's hair. The actor jumped up, looked at his watch and discovered it was nearly 8 o'clock. But for faithful "Alarm" he would have missed the performance.

Zest In Uncertainty.

It would be fine if the ideas could be manufactured and stored away by conscious effort. But after all that might take away some of the adventure of living. As it is you never know when you go to the mental cupboard whether you are going to find it full of good things or empty. At least there is the uncertainty to give zest to existence.

Country Almost Without Crime.

The criminal statistics of Newfoundland show that probably not another community of 400,000 people in the world has so clean a record. It is practically a crimeless country. The calendar shows no murder, no manslaughter, no forgery, no battery, no serious crime of any sort for the last fiscal year.

Working Overtime.

That the inventive spirit is working overtime in the United States is demonstrated by the thousands of useless patents that cumber the records of the patent office at Washington. For instance, more than four hundred patents have been issued for devices designed to harness the power of the sea waves for commercial purposes.

Qualified Rebuke.

Five-year-old Marie likes to see the funny pictures. She had the paper spread out on the floor looking at it when her father turned out the light. Mary was angry at this, and said, "You've got your nerve," but as she realized immediately whom she was talking to she hastily added, "But you know your rights."

A burglar who broke into an anti-quary's shop in Paris has been identified by means of a strip of skin torn from his ear by the broken glass of a showcase. The piece of skin was preserved in a bottle of spirits, and it fitted on to a fresh scar on the man's left ear.

enters into the construction of Best's Double Action Gas Ranges. They are constructed on an entirely new principle and is different from all other gas ranges made. The Double Action gas range uses the heat in its oven twice, and is the only range in the world that does. PLEAD WITH GOD TO END SLAUGHTER AMONG THE NATIONS

La Crosse a Unit in Praying to Almighty to Interfere in Awful Conflict in Europe

EFFICACY OF PRAYER TESTED

Thousands in La Crosse and Countless Numbers Elsewhere Bow to One Supreme Power

One prayer went up from church-going people of La Crosse yesterday to the Almighty, for peace in the Eastern Hemisphere. At the same hour, practically every church in the United States offered supplications for intervention from On High for an early mediation or a discountinuation of the present fighting in Europe.

At no time in the past have churches of the city responded so willingly to a request. Earnest hearts pleaded with God in compliance with the wish of President Woodrow Wilson that yesterday be made a day for prayer over the entire United States.

With but few exceptions, LaCrosse pastors devoted their entire morning service to a peace theme. Their sermons all touched on peace. Some told of the horrors of the war, and some became almost socialistic in denouncing it as utter waste.

Sing for Peace

Rev. W. Everett Johnson, rector of Christ's church went farther in his service than some of the pastors. The choir rendered the anthem, "Praise the Lord, He Maketh Peace in Thy Borders."

One of the most stirring sermons of the morning was heard at the First Methodist church when Rev. T. Stanley Adams took for his topic, "The Passion for Gain, and the Price Men Pay."

The "Grounds for Peace," was the topic of Rev. Carlos C. Rowland, pastor of the First Congregational church.

K. of P. Services

Gathering at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at the Universalist church, La Crosse Knights of Pythias joined their supplications with those of the congregation. The service there was impressive.

Rev. W. P. Christy of the English Lutheran church devoted the morning service to the interests of peace.

Rev. D. C. Jones, pastor of the First Presbyterian church took for his morning topic, "The Triumph of Peace." The entire morning service was devoted to peace.

North Side Prays

All north side churches observed the request of President Wilson and devoted their morning services to peace topics.

Rev. Andrew Hermansen, pastor of the Norwegian Methodist church of this city, who has been transferred to Brighton, Minn., by Bishop Quayle, addressed his congregation yesterday for the last time. He also observed Peace Sunday with prayers and a sermon for peace in Europe.

Every La Crosse church entered into the plan to test the efficacy of prayer.

Catholics Observe Day

The day was observed with impressive services in all Catholic churches. This was in compliance with the request of Rt. Rev. Bishop James Schwegel. The prayers of the Catholic churches of La Crosse yesterday interceded for universal peace.

thrashed out and refused to accept the proposition that I authorized him to submit, namely, that under no circumstances could I become a candidate until the wishes of the voters should be ascertained by submitting the question as to my candidacy to the voters by petition in the state. While I recognize the high character and the influence of the men in your conference, I can not accept their call upon me as an expression of the sentiment of the voters of the state. I am, therefore, compelled to decline the call of your conference to become an independent candidate.

Says Duty Bars Call

"In justice to myself and the cause to which I have given some years of my life, allow me briefly to suggest my reasons. The primary vote was small, the nomination was by a minority and involved a complete reversal of the established policy of the state. For these reasons it has been my personal opinion that there ought to be an independent candidate. But I do not think these facts warrant a public official, who has been elected to serve in another capacity, in becoming an independent candidate upon the call of a voluntary conference without action on the part of the voters on which to predicate such candidacy.

"It is my view that, as I have been assigned to serve in the senate by the people of Wisconsin, I have no right, arbitrarily, to throw overboard employment and permit myself to be urged upon them for another.

People Must Summon

"I believe that on principle they have the right to call me from the national service to the state service. If this had been done, I would willingly have entered that field, for there can be no higher call to civic duty than responding to the will of the people.

"The views I express apply to my candidacy and not necessarily to any candidate your conference may select. It is the right of the voters,

ATTORNEY GENERAL AGREES WITH HIGBEE

Attorney General Walter C. Owen upholds City Attorney J. E. Higbee in his contention that there must be two more registration days before the November elections.

"In an informal opinion to the Mayor of Bayfield," said Attorney Owen to The Tribune today, "I held that there must be a registration day Tuesday, October 6, and another on the Tuesday preceding the election."

WALKS THROUGH DOOR HOME IN AMBULANCE

Walking into the building of the old city water pumping station on King street yesterday afternoon and pushing open a half closed door, Thomas A. Morgan, 715 King street, teamster, fell into the basement, fourteen feet below. He crawled to the surface and was assisted home. His right arm and face are bruised. No serious injuries were received.

MUCH GAME HERE SAY TWO WARDENS

That there is more game in the vicinity of La Crosse this season than for many seasons past, is the belief of Deputy Game Wardens P. S. Curtis, Viroqua, and Edward Gautsch, local deputy. About 2,000 hunting licenses have been issued by County Clerk Bert A. Joliet, and it is expected that the number sold this year will exceed that of last year. Hunters were out in force yesterday. The warm weather is driving duck back north, hunters say, although game in the field is more than plentiful.

or of any group of them, to bring before the people an independent candidate who, having no other connecting official obligation, is free to become such candidate, and thus determine whether the voters desire to abide by the result of the primary. Our statutes expressly provide for this.

Declares Definitely

"You and your associates have decided on this course and, to avoid further complicating the situation in Wisconsin, I shall not be an independent candidate for governor, and shall so publicly announce. This relieves me from expressly rejecting the advice of my physicians, who oppose my becoming a candidate at a time when I am just recovering from a protracted illness.

"Please accept for yourself, and convey to your associates, my appreciation of their consideration and the cordial expression of my good will."

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

ENGLAND—While it is feared that some of the outer chain of fortifications of Antwerp have been smothered by the Germans it is believed that the Belgian capital will hold out until the siege can be raised by the allies. London war experts believe the widely circling movement in northern France will soon permit the relief of both Brussels and Antwerp.

FRANCE—President Poincare and Premier Viviani are reported visiting the French troops at the front. The allies' turning movement continues with all of the official statements declaring the situation satisfactory.

BEELGIUM—The general staff declares that all of the Antwerp forts are holding out. British heavy artillery has been sent to aid in holding the Germans back along the Nethe river line.

RUSSIA—The Germans defeated along the Niemen river have reformed along the east Prussian frontier and are attempting to resume the offensive. The Russian center is advancing through Russian Poland and it is stated that the situation everywhere is favorable for sweeping Russian successes. The war is at the front in person. The invasion of Hungary by the cossacks continues.

GERMANY—The war office declares that the situation on both the eastern and western battle line is encouraging from the German standpoint.

CHARGE COLE WITH CRIME ELSEWHERE

Man Who Passed Bogus Checks Here May Have to Go to Mason City or to Minneapolis

W. F. Cole, Minneapolis man who pleaded guilty to forging checks on La Crosse persons, is wanted in Mason City, Iowa, and Minneapolis, Minn.

Chief of Police John B. Webster received word yesterday from the chiefs of police of these cities that Cole forged checks there. It is believed now that he has a long list of crimes.

Cole was arrested here last week on a charge of forging a check on the Stoddard hotel. He asked for a continuance of his hearing before Judge John Brindley in county court and was given until October 7. Last Thursday, he entered a plea of guilty and applied for parole. His plea was not heard, in order to give La Crosse authorities a chance to look up the man's record.

WASHING WON'T RID HEAD OF DANDRUFF

Dissolve It, That's Best Way.

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

AGED CITIZEN CALLED SUNDAY

Mrs. Barbara Rehfuß, Widow of Butcher, Passes Away; Here for Many Years

Mrs. Barbara Rehfuß, aged 90, who probably knew more of LaCrosse since its infancy than any other woman, died at the home of her son, John Rehfuß, 316 South Eighth street, yesterday morning. Death came from paralysis.

Knowing her time to live was short, and although in the best of health at the time, Mrs. Rehfuß wrote a short sketch of her life three months ago which will be read by Rev. J. T. Gamm at the funeral services Wednesday.

Born in Linden, Germany, in 1824, Mrs. Rehfuß came with her parents to America while young. Her maiden name was Barbara Siegel. She was married in Cincinnati and shortly afterwards came to LaCrosse, when her husband was occupied in the meat business. He died twenty-two years ago. Only one son survives.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and at 2:30 from the German Lutheran church of which Mrs. Rehfuß was a member. Rev. J. T. Gamm will officiate. Interment will be made at Oak Grove cemetery.

BODY DUE WEDNESDAY

The body of Miss Helen Nevins, sister of Andrew Nevins of Madison, S. D., will arrive here Wednesday morning accompanied by Miss Grace Nevins, only surviving sister, and Mrs. William Doyle, a niece of the deceased.

Miss Nevins was born in La Crosse and was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Nevins.

LA CROSSE BOYS ARE IN CROWD DUCKED IN LAKE MENDOTA

La Crosse has again broken into the limelight through the entrance of several of her native sons into the sacred confines of that confidence-shaker—Lake Mendota.

Raymond Grimes, Knut Houck and Borge Gunderson were among the select few of the class of '18 who received their first real touch of university life in the chilly depths of the lake.

The three La Crosse offenders of campus rules were but a few of many yearlings who were hazed. Sophomores for the last week have been watching for wayward "frosh" and the climax of the hunt came Saturday night with the jousness of the victory over Lawrence still in the hearts of the second year men. The hazing wound up a most hilarious day.

The cause of the ducking is not known, but it is highly probable that the first year men broke one or more of the hundred and one restrictions placed on the freshmen. The incident ended up with a general fight on State street in the university section.

"Whys" of European War Moves Explained By Military Expert

(BY J. W. T. MASON)

NTW YORK, Oct. 5.—11 A. M.—The allies are steadily climbing the ladder leading into Belgium, while the Germans are consistently pushing the ladder further away from their own lines of communication.

At the southern end of Von Kluck's battle front, that is at the bottom of the ladder, the allies are within twelve miles of the main railway that rushes through the German lines back to Liege and the chief German supply stations at Aix La Chapelle and Cologne. But, at Arras, where the advance army of the allies has increased to thirty-two miles.

Arras is sixty miles nearer Belgium than the bottom of the ladder, and this represents the gain the allies have made as the fourth week of the Aisne battle opens. The Germans, however, have put an additional twenty miles of safety between their lines of communication and the enemy, which constitutes the gain of the three weeks' fighting for them. Both sides, therefore, have made simultaneous advances against each other along the same flank. This is a condition without precedent on a large scale in the history of warfare.

Coupled with it is the further exceptional facts that the allies are continuing to climb the ladder to Belgium, while fighting is proceeding on a number of fronts. The most important of these conflicts at present is in the neighborhood of Roye, one-third of the distance between Arras and the bottom of the ladder. The Germans are trying to shove the ladder further away, at Roye, where it is about fifteen miles from their indispensable railway.

Arras, however, is looming up into prominence as the site of the turning point in the campaign. Here the chief railway which the allies are using turns to the east, piercing the German battle front and proceeding to Brussels, by way of supposedly strong German positions at Valenciennes and Mons. Another line just beyond Arras at Douai moves northward toward Ghent. This second route, while running further away from the German communications, marks the natural direction for the relief of Antwerp. There is no reason to believe Antwerp is in need of immediate succor, and it seems therefore, that Arras, twenty-eight miles from the Belgian frontier, or some nearby town, must be the termination of the allies' purely northern movement.

Arras, because of its railway importance, is the natural pivot for the allies to use in swinging to the east and concentrating on the German line of communications through Belgium. This pivotal movement cannot be long delayed and probably will mark the next phase of the campaign.

RUSSIAN DANCERS HEAD THE PROGRAM

Quaint Music and Dancing from Land of the Czar Pleases Local Audience

The George Baise Troupe, Russian instrumentalists, singers and dancers, head the bill at the Majestic for the first half of the week. The troupe, seven in number, delight their audiences with their quaint music and native dancing. The string sextette plays American airs with a remarkable effect on their curious Russian instruments.

The Two Georges, comedy acrobats, startle their audience by their stunts. Their human "live chain rollers" is one of the hits of the act.

James Teed and company in a comedy sketch, "Delmonico's Restaurant Upside Down," present one of the cleverest and most humorous skits of the year.

Miss Evelyn Dare, vocalist, delights the audience with her sweet voice and her singing of the good, old-fashioned songs. Her unassuming stage presence adds much to the popularity of her act.

The McLinn Trio, bar and equilibrium artists, astound the assembly by their clever, yet difficult feats of balancing and acrobatics.

The woman of the company shows wonderful strength and endurance.

HIT BY AUTO

Mrs. William McCann, a resident of French Island, was struck and seriously injured last night by an auto, the number of which she claims was 31492. KEEP WHAT YOU GAIN

Most people who have but a small reserve of strength feel better in summer than in winter. The vitality gained during the out-of-door season carries them through the trying weather of winter and early spring until there comes a time when the stored-up reserve strength is not sufficient.

How, then, shall we keep and add to the reserve of strength that means so much? By taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the blood and nerve tonic, to strengthen and sustain the system so that it can keep all the strength that it has gained and gain more. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and enable it to carry nourishment to every part of the body. Many disorders that have proved stubborn for years have been reached by this tonic treatment. Try these pills for debility, nervousness, headache, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, rheumatism, anemia or any other condition caused or aggravated by thin blood and weak nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful ingredients of any kind. Two pamphlets describing the action of this remedy on the blood and nerves will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper.

SPARTA FIREMEN HAVE BUSY DAY

Two Fires Saturday Are Put Out, One with Considerable Loss; John Reese Burned

SPARTA, Wis., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The Sparta fire department had a busy day Saturday, receiving two calls—one in the morning and one in the evening. The first of these was not at all serious, a small fire which had started in the Hotel Sparta, being soon checked.

But the second, which started about 7:30, caused considerable damage. This fire was in a paint shop owned by John Grimes, on South Water street. This fire was not noticed until it had a good start and the little building was nearly destroyed before the company could put the fire out. Although there are many buildings close by, the fire was confined to the one building.

Gasoline Stove Explodes. An accident which, although quite serious, might have been much more serious had it not been for the quick work of John Reese, happened Saturday morning shortly after Reese had opened his shop. He filled the gasoline stove which he uses to heat his pressing iron and lighted one of the burners. The stove did not work to suit him and he tipped it back slightly, not aware that there had been some gasoline spilled on the top of the tank. As he tipped the stove, the gasoline caught fire, running down his hand and arm. He picked up the stove and sent it flying through the back door, just in time to escape the puff that followed.

A quantity of clothing lying on the table was burned, this being the extent of the interior damage. Reese's arm, which was badly burned, was immediately dressed by Dr. Beebe.

And John Reese, the optimist, replied to his consoling, that, being unable to work, he would be able to witness the Winona-Sparta football game.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

If cross, feverish or bilious give "California Syrup of Figs"

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see its tongue it coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

PIONEER DIES AT CENTERVILLE

William Bennett Who Was Prominent in Trempealeau County for Fifty Years Is Called

GALESVILLE, Wis., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—William Bennett, for nearly fifty years one of the prominent men of Trempealeau county, died last Monday at his home at his home at Centerville, a village near here, according to word reaching Galesville last week. Mr. Bennett, who was born on Prince Edward's Island in 1833, came to Centerville in 1869, having purchased a tract of land. His wife died three years ago, and his only surviving relative is a son. Funeral services were held on Wednesday at the home, Rev. Father Buschmann officiating.

Iver Pederson Dies. Many activities, ranging from war to the operation of one of the largest country stores in this part of the state went to make up the varied career of Iver Pederson of Ettrick, who died at his home in that village recently.

Mr. Pederson was born in Norway in 1842. He came to the United States at the age of twenty, and shortly after his arrival enlisted in the Union army in the war between the states. He fought for three years, taking part, among other engagements, in the siege of Vicksburg, and Sherman's famous march to the sea. He came to Trempealeau county in 1868, starting a general merchandise business at Frenchville. Several years thereafter he opened an immense country store in Ettrick, with which he was still actively connected at the time of his death. Thirty years ago he erected a splendid house on the outskirts of Ettrick, one of the best residences in the county.

Mr. Pederson was interested in many other activities beside his general store. He was the founder of the Ettrick Flouring mills and was also interested in the Ettrick Woolen mills. He was for many years president of the Bank of Galesville. He took an active interest in politics, serving in the state legislature and once acting as presidential elector on the republican ticket.

His wife, who, as Miss Mary Nelson, he married in 1870, survives him, although an invalid for a score of years. Four children survive, Ida, Anna and Albert of Ettrick, and Mrs. P. N. Benrud of Frenchville.

The funeral was held last Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. S. S. Urburg of the Synod Lutheran church. The funeral was one of the largest in recent years, the Galesville Business Men's association attending in a body.

Donehouer-Gibson. Miss Luella Gibson and Glen Donehouer of Centerville, were married October 1 in the Methodist church at Winona. They returned to Centerville Thursday and were guests at a reception in their honor Thursday evening, at the home of the bride's parents.

Ship Much Produce. The Hawley commission house branch in Galesville has shipped twenty carloads of eggs and three carloads of poultry since spring.

Personals. Mrs. L. A. Pickering, who has been visiting her daughter at West Prairie for several weeks, has returned home.

Mrs. Albert Scarseth will lead the W. C. T. U. meeting which is scheduled for tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Stanley French. The subject will be "Encouragement Notes from the Press."

Mrs. Mary Dale has returned from Superior, Wis., where for some time she has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. G. B. Christoperson.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Z. Taylor are the parents of a baby boy.

Mrs. Kneeland and her daughter Elia are visiting relatives in Milwaukee.

Rev. Benjamin Thomas and family spent from Friday until Monday among their many friends in Ettrick and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spencer and daughter of Waseca, Minn., visited Mr. Spencer's mother for a few days. Mr. Spencer is an engineer on the C. & N. W. railway as his father was before him.

GERMAN SUPPLYING GERMAN CRUISERS

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Despite the activity of French and English cruisers, the Hamburg-American liner President is making active efforts to supply German cruisers with ammunition and provisions, according to Captain Carmichael of the British steamship Korona, Quebec, which arrived today from South America.

The Korona met the President at St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, and discovered that 40,000 rounds of ammunition were stored in the latter vessel. The boxes were labeled "condensed milk."

The Danish authorities, insisting upon complete neutrality, compelled the Korona and other vessels belonging to warring nations, to remove their wireless apparatus. This was done at St. Thomas, so the Korona was compelled to steam up the coast without the protection of the Marconi apparatus.

IN FIVE MINUTES NOSICK STOMACH, INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapiespin" is the quickest and surest Stomach relief.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas, and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapiespin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go and why it relieves sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapiespin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapiespin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too. If you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

THREE KILLED BY POWDER EXPLOSION

Many Injured When Fireworks Plant in Jersey City Is Blown Up Today

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 5.—An explosion in the powder magazine of the Detweiler & Street Fireworks company Saturday, partially wrecked the factory and from three to five are reported killed and many injured.

The explosion occurred shortly before noon. All ambulances in the city were called to the scene. Physicians declared that a score of men had been injured, but the number of dead had not been determined when the work of rescue was still in progress.

The known dead are: Christian Pfeiffer, Jersey City; Max Zimmerman, Jersey City; Arthur Kinn, Jersey City.

Seven of the injured are in hospitals, thirty suffered minor injuries, and one Pole is missing. The explosion originated in a powder magazine a few feet distant from the main factory and was due, say the police, to gross negligence. John Andries, manager of the plant, is held pending an investigation.

FOUR BURN TO DEATH. HAMMOND, Ind., Oct. 5.—Four persons were burned to death, one was seriously injured and four others saved themselves by leaping from the second story in a fire that destroyed the farm residence of John Stoltz, ten miles south of here Saturday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stoltz, 72, an invalid; Mary, aged 13; Fred, aged 9, and Tracy, aged 6, children of John Stoltz, were the victims.

How Linoleum Kills Germs. German scientists have discovered that disease germs quickly die when they come in contact with the ordinary floor covering known as linoleum. This is thought to be due to the disinfectant properties of linseed oil which is found in linoleum in large quantities.

NOT DRUGS Food Did It

After using laxative and cathartic medicines from childhood a case of chronic constipation yielded to the scientific food, Grape-Nuts, in a few days.

"From early childhood I suffered with such terrible constipation that I had to use laxatives continuously going from one drug to another and suffering more or less all the time."

"A prominent physician whom I consulted told me the muscles of the digestive organs were weakened and could not perform their work without help of some kind, so I have tried at different times about every laxative and cathartic known, but found no help that was at all permanent. I had finally become discouraged and had given my case up as hopeless when I began to use the pre-digested food, Grape-Nuts."

"Although I had not expected this food to help my trouble, to my great surprise Grape-Nuts digested easily from the first and in a few days I was convinced that this was just what my system needed."

"The bowels performed their functions regularly and I am now completely and permanently cured of this awful trouble."

"Truly the power of scientific food must be unlimited." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

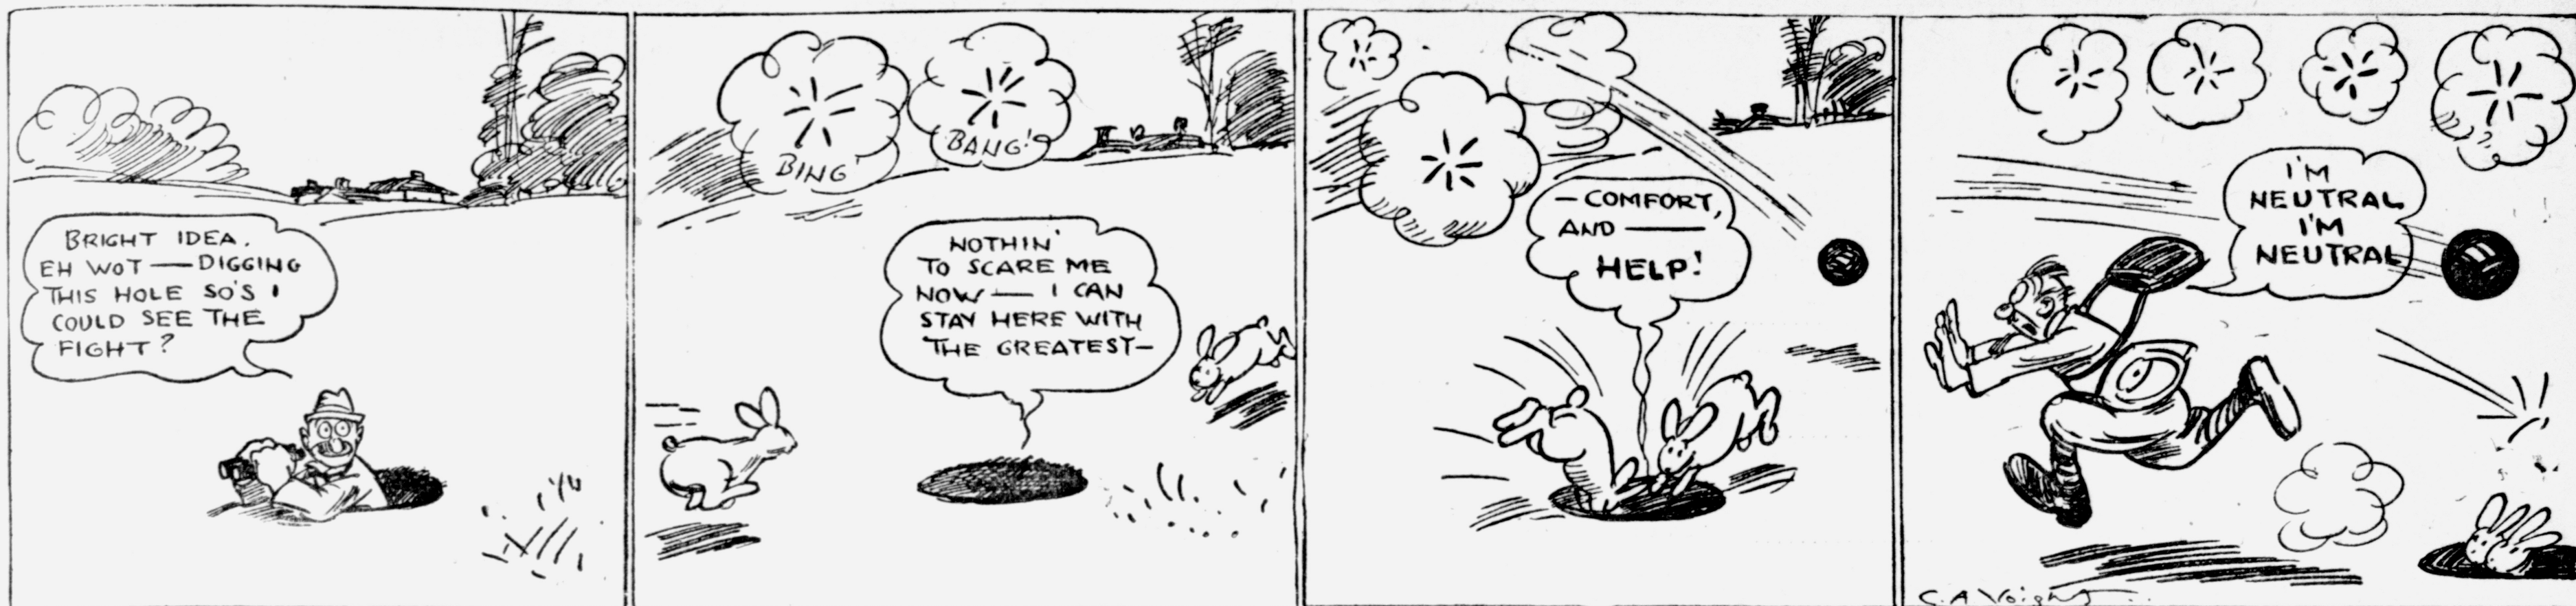

Trial 10 days of Grape-Nuts, when regular food does not seem to sustain the body, works wonders. "There's a Reason."

PARISIAN PAPER PRINTS WILD TALE

PARIS, Oct. 5.—The Figaro says that the Grand Duchess of Luxembourg has been deported and is now held as a prisoner of war in a castle near Nuremberg. It also says that the Luxembourg army of 250, including its commander, are also held prisoners in Germany.

The above statement seems highly improbable, in view of the declaration published last Thursday, that Germany has already paid $1,000,000 to Luxembourg for the damages resulting from the violation of her neutrality and by the frequently published statement that the kaiser and his general staff were occupying the German legation in Luxembourg City and had not disturbed the local government.

Where Was Wales? Spencer Leigh Hughes, M. P., tells of the following amusing experience: He was once passing the new war office building in Whitehall when his companion, a Scotchman, pointing to the emblematic devices engraved over the door, indicated the Scotch thistle, the English lion, and the Irish harp. "Where is the emblem of Wales?" asked his friend. "Oh," Mr. Hughes replied, "I expect there is a leak in the roof."

She Asks Too Much. When a woman goes away to spend Sunday, if she would give her husband directions concerning the fourteen or fifteen most important things that ought to be done around the house in her absence, instead of concerning the whole fifty-seven, he would stand more chance of remembering at least some of 'em.—Houston Post.

Hadn't Heard of Him. The hostess asked the solid man of her guest list to take a talkative young woman in to dinner. The girl did her best to keep up the conversation. Only once did the solid man deign to answer her, and that was when she asked: "Do you like Beethoven's works?" "Never visited them," he replied. "What did he manufacture?"

Oldest Flower Is the Rose. The rose is the oldest flower of which there is any record. So great is the antiquity of the rose that all account of its origin has been lost. In Egypt the rose is depicted on a number of monuments believed to date from 3,000 to 3,500 B. C.

Device to Store Heat. An inventor in Stockholm, Sweden, has devised an electrical apparatus for storing heat.

Without Race Prejudice. Five-Year-Old Henry had been enjoying the company of the little daughter of his family's colored cook. He came into the nursery, looked at Ruth, his baby sister, for a while and said: "Mother, when Ruth grows up, I do hope she'll be colored."

Splendid Old Editor. As we recall it, the hardest newspaper work we ever did was for a splendid old editor, now of sainted memory, who accepted wood on subscription and was pleased to get it. It was our task to carry the wood up two flights of stairs.—Toledo Blade.

Daily Thought. The truest parts depart not. No truth or goodness realized by man ever dies, or can die; but all is still here, and recognized or not, lives and works through endless changes.—Carlyle.

Chicago Grain Review. CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Wheat was in good demand at the start today on account of bullish cables and advanced one cent on the early trades. Subsequently Armour and other pit leaders sold, on word of heavy receipts northwest and the market lost 1/4 to 3/4c of the early gain.

Corn started 1/4c higher and in good demand. On the advance there was liberal selling and prices dropped 1/4 to 1/2c below Saturday's close.

Oats advanced 3/4c at the start on account of the bulge in the other grains. There was good demand for December futures which made further advance of 3/4c but May lost 1/2c in the forenoon trading.

Provisions were lower on account of a weak hog market. The afternoon trading had little effect on wheat and corn futures, but December oats slumped sharply, closing 1/2c and May lost a shade.

Provisions closed with little change.

LOP-SIDED GAME TO LOCAL HIGHS

Coach Horne's Men Play Ring Around the Rosy with Team from Lanesboro

Displaying mid-season form and playing rings around their lighter adversaries from Minnesota, the local highs romped away with Saturday's game by the decidedly lop-sided score of 94 to 0. The wishes of the rooters for the 100 to 0 score were blasted by the time keeper's whistle a second before the red and the black pushed the ball over the line.

Bruha, Capt. Fay, Feinberg, Zeller, Roellig, Reget and Kulczynski played a star game in the line and in the backfield. Feinberg, Fay and Kelly carried the ball most of the time, their combination netting ten touchdowns.

Thompson substituted for Gibson in the third quarter and Roellig went in at quarter in the last period, playing well and showing ability as a field general.

Two perfectly executed forward passes to Bruha and Kulczynski brought the rooters to their feet. Both passes were for long runs to touchdowns.

The lineups:
La Crosse—Bruha, lb.; Blatter, lt.; Hott, lg.; Barney, c.; Endres, rg.; Gibson, Thompson, rt.; Kulczynski, re.; Zeisler, Roellig, qb.; Kelly, lbh.; Feinberg, rfb.; Capt. Fay, fb.

Lanesboro—Wall, re.; Welch, rt.; Lund, rg.; H. Habberstad, c.; Ramsey, lg.; Hennessey, lt.; Williams, lb.; Bersagel, qb.; O. Halberstad, rfb.; Sharie, lbh.; Sackett, fb.

Touchdowns, Feinberg 2, Kelly 2, Fay 2, Zeisler, Barney, Kulczynski 4, Bruha 2; goals from touchdowns, Kelly 10; Referee, Spence.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork, they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; make a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active. Chas. A. Beyers, Druggist, 503 Main St.

Thing of the Past.

Our memory goes back to the time when the mere sight of a bolt of red fannel in the dry goods store would give rise to the most tender feelings in a young man's breast, but we suppose the young men of the present day would wonder what in the world the stuff was ever used for.—Ohio State Journal.

LAWRENCE BEATEN BY THE CARDINAL

Stavrum Stars in the First Game of Year, Scoring Touchdown and Playing Hard in Line

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 5.—In a game marred by ragged playing, Coach Juneau's 1914 machine finished the first race of the season with a perfect score, defeating Lawrence 21 to 0, at Camp Randall Saturday afternoon before a large crowd.

Steady marches down the field netted the three Wisconsin scores, Kreuz, Cummings and Stavrum crossing the blue and white line for the Badgers. Bellows kicked goal each time.

Kreuz, a new man, who was started at fullback, played a ripping game for the Badgers, tearing big holes through the Lawrence line almost every time he was given the ball.

Pretty Play by Stavrum
Stavrum scored the third touchdown on one of the prettiest plays seen at Camp Randall. Bellows had punted from his own 38 yard line to Beach, the Lawrence quarter, who fumbled the ball on the Lawrence 50 yard line. Stavrum arrived on the scene just in time to grab the ball and run the remaining thirty yards for a touchdown.

Stavrum, Buck, Keeler and Kennedy played great games for Wisconsin in the line. Kelly, another new man, was given his first chance at right end, and decidedly made good. Stavrum's work at the other end was also efficient. Clayton, fullback, dislocated his arm.

Wisconsin used the forward pass to advantage several times in the course of the game, the favorite play being front Bellows to Stavrum. Summary:

Wisconsin—Stavrum-Cohn, lb.; Buck, lt.; Schmitt, lg.; Kennedy, c.; Keeler, rg.; McMaster-Walsh, rt.; Kelley-Rau, re.; Bellows-McCrory, q.; Weimar-Stephenson-Schram, rb.; Cummings-Taylor, lb.; Kreuz-Clayton-Booth-Kreuz, f.

Lawrence—Wittman-Wittman, lb.; Wilkinson, lt.; Owens, lg.; Wright, c.; Saeker-Burdan, rg.; Schneider-Irwin, rt.; Sampson, re.; Beach, q.; Tippet, rb.; Bouchard, lb.; Abrahamson, f.

Touchdowns—Kreuz, Cummins, 3.
Goals after touchdowns—Bellows, 3.
Referee—Doseff, Chicago.
Umpire—Gardner, Illinois.
Head linesman—Huegel, Marquette.

EAGLES BEATEN IN BAD INNING

All-Stars Run in Four Runs Off Saubert in First; Fitzki Holds Them for Remainder

KEAVENEY STAR OF GAME

Fitzki Holds All-Stars Hitless for Six Innings; Tracy Singles in the Eighth

Before the onslaught of the All-Stars in the first inning, the La Crosse Eagles, city champions, went down to defeat yesterday in the last game of the season at League park. One of the largest crowds of the year attended the game.

The victory of the Stars reflects in no way on the reputation of the Eagles, as some of the best hitters and fielders of the minors were arrayed against them. Saubert went into the game with a sore arm against his will and four runs, all that the Stars gathered, were made off him. He passed Meinert and hit Burns and Weigert reached first on an error by Roeder. Tracy tripled, scoring Meinert, Burns and Weigert and came home on a long out by Curtis to Rockstad. Cameron singled and Safford lived on first when Wall was drawn off the bag on a wide throw from Roeder. Wais singled, advancing Cameron to third and Safford overran second on Anderson's out to Rockstad.

Fitzki relieved Saubert in the second and held the Stars for the rest of the game, allowing but one hit in the seven innings he pitched. Tracy garnered that in the eighth after two were out.

The Eagles got to Anderson in the fifth when Jack Johnson singled and was brought home by a double by Wall, after Ritter had fouled out and Rockstad was out to Curtis. Hits in several cases would have meant runs.

Keaveney and Hackner starred at the bat for the Eagles, each getting a single and a double in four trips to the plate. Tracy tripled and singled for the Stars. Keaveney played a great game in the field.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD BY HAL SHERIDAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—A just-before-the-battle feeling is beginning to percolate through the camp of the Boston Braves. With the first clash with the Athletics now only four days away, Manager Stallings led his team across the bridge today for a series of four games with the Dodgers, and it may be taken from Stallings that there will be no monkey business in dealing with the guardians of Ebbetts field.

The Athletics will also do their final tuning up in the games with the New York Yanks starting today. Both Mack and Stallings intend to place their regular lineups in the field for workouts. The Braves will play four games within two days and will then have a two days' rest.

As the champions are making final preparations for the big tussle there is considerable activity among the also rans for positions as the wire is neared.

As the season closes in the west today, the Giants are fairly safe in second place. The Cardinals must win today and the Giants drop all three of their remaining games to be dislodged.

In the American league the scramble is more involved in spots. The Tigers closed the season with the Naps yesterday, winning easily. This brought them practically to a tie with Washington, so that the games played by the Senators this week will be necessary to settle the claims upon third place.
